SENATE PASSES PUBLIC- ITY BEFORE SALE BILL

It is Highly Probable That House Will Pass the Bill and That Governor Will Sign It.

TALLAHASSEE, April 15.—When large tracts of land are sold in the future by the State, public notice will have to be given under the provisions of the bill by Mr. Sloan of the Senate, passed by the Senate under suspension of the rules yesterday. It is probable that the bill will be passed by the House and signed by the Governor.

Routine Proceedings.

Twenty-eight responded to roll call when the Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock.

New bills as follows:

No. 119, Zim—Providing for licensing of plumbing. To organized labor committee.

No. 121, Henderson—Fixing standard of cotton seed meal. To public health committee.

No. 125, McMullen—Relating to rights of waiver.

No. 126, Sloan—Penalty for drunkenness.

No. 127, Johnson—Regulating disposing of personal property.

Joint Resolution 128, Harris—Proposing constitutional amendment relating to establishing of courts.

No. 129, Relating to recovery of claims against common carriers.

Senate Bill No. 6, by Sloan—Providing that no judgment shall be reversed by an appellate court, except for reasons affecting the merits of the action. Unfavorable report. Mr. Cone moved indefinite postponement. Motion carried.

Senate Bill No. 8, by Sloan, requiring that public notice shall be given when any of the public lands of the State are to be sold in large tracts. Favorable report. On calendar to third reading. Mr. Harris moved third reading and passage. Adopted. Bill passed.

Senate Bill No. 10, by Johnston—Prohibiting fire insurance companies doing business in this State, in the absence of fraud, misrepresentation or deceit upon the part of the party insuring, from setting up a defense against the payment of a policy, lack of title in the party insuring. Favorable report from Judiciary B. On calendar to third reading.

Senate Bill No. 30, McCreary—Relating to entry on enclosure to hunt or fish. Unfavorable report by Judiciary. Mr. Cone moved indefinite postponement. Mr. McCreary objected, claiming that it should not be necessary to post premises any more than to post a person's house. Mr. Sloan endorsed the stand of Mr. McCreary. Mr. West took the same stand. Mr. Baker of the Twentieth objected to postponement. Chairman Cone of the committee claimed the present statutes are sufficient and that the proposed bill was too stringent.

Mr. Miller of the Fourteenth said that under the proposed law persons could use it for spite if they wished. He believed that it would cause innocent persons to suffer, though he expressed the belief that Mr. McCreary's intentions were of the best. Messrs. Payton, Massey and McLeod opposed the bill and Mr. Beard, after looking through statutes, hoped the bill wouldn't be postponed. Mr. McCreary moved to recommit bill to committee. Motion adopted.

Senator Cone presented report of I. I. F. investigating commission. Adjournment was then taken until 10 o'clock Thursday.

J. O. LaFONTISEE

(From Tallahassee Morning News.)

Being aware that Senator H. H. McCreary had known J. O. LaFontisee, who died in Washington last Tuesday, from childhood, the deceased having been associated with him for a number of years on The Gainesville Sun, The Morning News man asked the Senator yesterday what he knew of Mr. LaFontisee's career, to which he replied:

"John LaFontisee, or 'Johnnie,' as he was known to myself and family, was one of the best boys I ever knew. He went to work for me when about sixteen years of age, being employed at first as a compositor on The Daily Sun. He was always faithful in the performance of his work, and the first opportunity I had I let him try his hand as local reporter. It was a surprise to me how quick he 'caught on,' and he soon became one of the best local reporters in the State. In the course of a few years he also became of great assistance to me in the editorial work on The Sun, and he rendered me valuable assistance in every department of the office, always being ready and willing to lend a helping hand wherever and whenever his services were needed. When war was declared between the United States and Spain, LaFontisee asked me if I would hold a position open for him in case he joined the army, and I told him yes, that if he was patriotic enough to enlist I would have a position for him when he was mustered out of service. He enlisted at Tampa, but when he learned that his company would not be sent to Cuba, he tired of life as a soldier and, through the efforts of Senator Mallory, obtained his discharge. He returned to work with The Sun for a while, afterwards going to Havana as special correspondent of a New York paper, and later became one of the editors of The Havana Daily Post. He remained in Cuba for two years or more, when he again accepted the position as one of the editors of my paper, remaining with me until he was offered and accepted the position of city editor of The Times-Union, which position he filled with credit. I was considerably occupied with politics during 'Johnnie's' association with me, and he was my 'field manager' in the strenuous campaign of nine years ago, when a determined effort was made to defeat me for re-election. He remained in the 'saddle' for me from the opening until the closing of the campaign, and to him I was largely indebted for my success. In one of the hardest-fought political battles ever experienced in a county in this State, he rejoined in my success as much as I did myself. A great many persons thought General Gilchrist had made a mistake in placing LaFontisee in charge of his campaign for Governor last year, but I knew from past experience that Gilchrist had not made a mistake. He made hundreds of votes for Gilchrist in Alachua county, and, to my surprise, even succeeded in carrying the county for him in the last primary.

"Johnnie" LaFontisee was looked upon as one of our family by my wife and I, having lived with us most of the time he was in my employ. He used to nurse my little girl and boy as he would his own brother and sister. They loved him as a brother, and his death is almost as if wife and I had lost one of our own children. He was a devoted husband, loving son and brother, and I feel his death keener than any but his dear wife and blood relations can possibly feel it."

Mr. LaFontisee was holding a responsible position in the Department of Forestry at Washington at the time of his death.

MISS ELLIS WINS IN THE PIANO CONTEST

Great Interest Was Manifested Closing Day, and Millions of Votes Were Cast.

Miss Dorian Ellis wins the beautiful piano offered by The Gainesville Sun and three of the prominent and progressive business houses of the city—the Gainesville Hardware Co., Phifer Bros. and Hyde & Tench.

Early yesterday it was reported on the streets that such and such a candidate had received such large numbers as 400,000, 500,000 and the like, but very few of the citizens gave any credence to the reports. After the count last night, however, it developed that reports made were founded upon facts.

Miss Dorian Ellis received the large vote of 1,243,680 and Miss Bessie Dupree 872,195 out of a total of 2,202,890 votes cast yesterday. The vote far exceeded any estimate ever placed upon the number of votes that would be cast in the contest.

Both of the leading candidates worked for all there was in it and the ultimate result was not known until the count was completed last night.

As will be seen by referring to the figures published below, the following young ladies will receive due bills for $200: Miss Bessie Dupree, Miss Catherine Haile, Miss Florrie Strickland, Miss Mary Daughtrey, Miss Mary McCormick and Miss Mabel Sanchez. The due bills will be awarded as soon as they can be received from the Bush & Safford Piano Company, who will sign same and deliver to us at an early date.

Misses Nannie Dickinson, Alma Fennell, Julia Carter, Anita Groff, Estelle Beal and Alice Strickland will receive due bills for $175 each.

Misses Jessie Evans, Emma Hudson, Annie Beville, Elvena Staf, Mrs. I. Ware and Miss Goldie Lambert will each receive due bills for $150.

Following is the total number of votes each candidate received the closing day: Miss Dorian Ellis, 1,243,680; Miss Bessie Dupree, 872,195; Miss Mary McCormick, 33,915; Miss Florrie Strickland, 25,410; Miss Mabel Sanchez, 24,210; Miss Emma Hudson, 1,595; Miss Nannie Dickinson, 820; Miss Estelle Beal, 465; Miss Catherine Haile, 460; Miss Elvena Staf, 435; Miss Alice Strickland, 390;

A Liberal Proposition.

The Gainesville Hardware Company, one of the firms interested in the contest, makes the following very liberal proposition:

"Editor Sun: Inasmuch as the two young ladies who are in the lead in the piano contest have worked so faithfully and earnestly, and inasmuch as the young lady who comes out second-best will be entitled to a certificate for $200 on another piano, we, the Gainesville Hardware Company, in order to show our appreciation of the faithful work done by the young ladies, will agree to pay one-fourth of the additional cost for a piano for the one coming out second best. We offer to pay one-fourth because of the fact that there are four of us interested in the contest.

"Yours very truly,
"GAINESVILLE HARDWARE CO."

Dr. Sledd's Resignation as President of University

Dr. Andrew Sledd, who recently tendered his resignation as president of the University of Florida, has mailed a copy of the document to The Sun, with a request that it be published. It is as follows:

"Gainesville, Fla., April 8, 1909.
"The Honorable Board of Control,
"Tallahassee, Florida.
"Gentlemen—I respectfully tender

you herewith my resignation as President of the University of the State of Florida to take effect at the close of the present year, or at such other time as you may prefer.

Kenilworth Inn at Asheville Destroyed by Fire

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 15.—Of the once beautiful structure, Kenilworth Inn, that in its day has housed some of the country's greatest celebrities, nothing remains tonight but a pile of charred and smoking ruins. Despite the fact that the alarm was sounded at 2:30 yesterday morning when all the guests were asleep, only one person was injured, former State Senator Joseph M. Gazzam, owner of the hotel, who jumped from a third-story window in an effort to escape, and sustained internal injuries, the outcome of which is doubtful at this hour. At 9 o'clock last night it was reported from Biltmore Hospital that Senator Gazzam had been unconscious since noon and that his spine was injured. Hopes for his recovery are entertained, however.

The origin of the fire, while still a matter of doubt, is thought to have been caused by embers from the big kitchen range. The total insurance is now placed at $72,500. The total loss is estimated at $250,000. It is doubtful if Kenilworth Inn will be rebuilt.

SECOND WEEK OF SESSION NEARING END

ALEXANDER'S RESOLUTION IN HOUSE CENSURING CLARK

Caused Little Ripple of Excitement. Animated Debate Over Postponing Sen. McCreary's Bill.

(Special Correspondence.)

TALLAHASSEE, April 15.—The second week of the Legislative session is rapidly drawing to a close and so far there is little indication of the sensational features somewhat freely predicted by a certain portion of the press of the State before the date of convening.

A little ripple on the otherwise smooth waters was caused by the "James-Alex" resolution in the House censuring Frank Clark for his attitude toward the Bryanite wing of the Democratic party in a recent speech in Congress by that distinguished representative from the Second Congressional District. Clark found some very able defenders in the course of the debate that followed, and the general consensus of opinion seems to be that should he take advantage of the opportunity extended to appear in his own behalf that he will be very amply able to take care of himself and thoroughly competent to impress his views of Democracy upon all who may be fortunate enough to hear him.

An Animated Debate.

A rather animated debate which was participated in by many Senators followed the motion to indefinitely postpone Senate Bill No. 30, by Mr. McCreary, being "A bill to be entitled 'An act to amend Section 3404, Article 12, General Statutes State of Florida, relating to entry on enclosure to hunt or fish.'" This bill had been reported unfavorably by the Judiciary Committee B, and in accordance with the rules of the Senate the chairman of that committee, Senator Cone, made the motion stated. In opposing the motion to indefinitely postpone Senator McCreary clearly explained the object of the proposed amendment, which, in effect, simply repealed that section of the law requiring posting of enclosed lands for a specified number of days by the owner and how the law as it now stood was an injustice to the farmer. The incongruities of the existing laws was brought out, demonstrating the fact that now the owner of uncultivated enclosed lands was protected, but so soon as any crops were planted it seemed necessary for the owner or occupant to post the same. He instanced cases where the posted signs were destroyed and similar abuses that his measure was designed to protect.

The debate became very general. Senator Baker of the twentieth; West, Beard, Sloan and Williams favoring the McCreary bill and Senators Cone, McLeod, Dayton and Miller opposing. Finally on motion of the introducer the bill was recommended to the committee, as it was understood some of its friends desired to suggest an amendment.

The news of the sad death of John LaFontsee reached Tallahassee Wednesday night and many have been the expressions of regret, both at the Capitol and elsewhere. Few men had a wider or more thoroughly appreciated acquaintance among public men throughout Florida, or were more universally liked. His bright disposition, his cheerful greeting and the knowledge that his hand never held the pen in malice, all combined with his ability and fairness, made him one of the State's most appreciated writers.

Peter O. Knight.

Among prominent arrivals at the capital during the week is Hon. Peter O. Knight of Tampa, whose smiling countenance is familiar to all who have been "round the Legislature" for the past twenty years. Colonel Knight first made his appearance in Tallahassee as a representative from Lee county in the late 80's, when he was the youngest member of the House. He was then but a little over 21 years of age and it is doubtful if he has missed a session since that time.

Tallahassee is giving us all a taste of very disagreeable weather, which, by the way, is not unusual for the Capital City in April. Several of the visitors and members are ill, among the latter Senators Jos. Humphries and Lewis Zim, who are under the care of physicians. Others are also indisposed but try to attend their duties. There has hardly been a day during the present session that we have not had disagreeable rains and on many days so cool that a fire was very comfortable.

Hon. Frank Clark, it has been announced, is expected to arrive in the city today. Mr. Clark has been retained by Colonel Wallis to present his case to the present Legislature. It is thought he will only request permission to establish his case in the courts of the State, and be entirely willing to abide by any judicial decision.

Truckers Are Happy.

Conductor C. R. Carter speaking yesterday about the trucking business around Evinston remarked that this was the best season they had experienced in many years. That two weeks ago the growers of cabbage around Evinston had received $25,000 for the product shipped and had been busy since shipping, getting not less than $1.50 per crate f. o. b. Their lettuce brought a good price, and the bean crop is doing well and from the present outlook their tomato crop, at fair prices, will round out the season's yield with fully $100,000, to say nothing of their farm crops. He said the truck growers all along the line, from Citra to High Springs, were in the best of spirits.—Ocala Star, 13th.

DON'T GROW OLD

Keep Your Hair Bright and Luxuriant and Stay Young.

Yes, Parisian Sage, the most invigorating hair restorer, grows hair; the women of America, who have luxuriant hair, know it does, and that is why thousands of attractive women throughout the land are regularly using it.

For years this almost marvelous grower of lustrous and beautiful hair was confined to the elite of Europe and New York City, but about two years ago it was given to a select list of druggists, and today can be obtained in any city or town in America where society women of refinement dwell.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair tonic in the world. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is perfumed most daintily and is not sticky or greasy. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

This is what Mrs. Elizabeth E. Anderson, Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes:

"I had given up hope of ever being cured of dandruff, when I purchased a bottle of Parisian Sage. It has entirely removed the dandruff, and has started a growth of new hair, and this after having been troubled for 15 years. I cheerfully recommend Parisian Sage."

W. M. Johnson is the regularly appointed agent in Gainesville for Parisian Sage, and he will sell you a large bottle under a rigid guarantee for 50 cents.

A larger bottle of better tonic, that's what you get when you lay down a half dollar for a bottle of Parisian Sage. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package and bottle.

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. J. W. McCollum & Co.

GAINESVILLE GUN CLUB MEMBERS
START CONTEST THURSDAY.

Two Prizes Are Being Given for the Best Marksmanship Made by Members.

The Gainesville Gun Club held a very interesting shoot yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the initial shoot for the trophies to be given for best marksmanship among its members.

Nearly every member was present at this meeting and participated in the contest, which will prove very spirited throughout the season and add considerable interest to the organization.

So far there have been two prizes offered, one by Mr. Holt and one by Mr. Burkheim, but it is expected that others will be added for additional feasts before the season closes.

The club will hold two regular shoots for the medals each month, every two weeks, and the first of this series was participated in yesterday, Dr. J. H. Alderman and C. B. Sprouell tying for the honors.

Several fine scores were made by other members of the club and as all are fast improving in marksmanship, it is hard to place any guess as to who the lucky winners will be.

Judging from the great interest that has been taken in the club the attendance promises to be good, and as they are at liberty to practice every week, some fine shooting is expected to result.

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING PROPOSED

LARGE FIRM WANTS TO ERECT SAME ON TIME.

No Action Taken by Board of Control at Present Time, as They Lack Funds.

It was learned Thursday that a proposition has been made by a large contracting firm who want to erect the Administration building at the University grounds and wait for their money from the State until it is available.

This firm proposes to erect the Administration building according to the original plans and specifications and give the State ample time to pay for the work, or until the funds are available from the money already appropriated for this purpose by the Legislature.

This building is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $250,000 and it is proposed to have it ready for occupancy soon as the contractors can get the work completed.

The building is to be located in front of the dormitories already constructed, Thomas and Buckman halls, and will be an immense structure.

It is to be hoped that something definite will be done in the matter and that within a very few months work will have really begun on new buildings, as well as the repair work contemplated for the dormitories, the latter amounting to about $10,000.

Are You a Lard Eater?

Half the time when a person feels blue and out of sorts you may take it for granted that he is a victim of the "lard habit." Lard-cooked food and good stomachs are never friends for long. Lard food is not healthful food and no ordinary stomach can thoroughly digest it.

Lard comes from the pig-sty; Cottolene from the cotton fields of the Sunny South. Lard is greasy, indigestible, and sometimes absolutely harmful; Cottolene makes food digestible, nutritious, delicious. Cottolene is the perfect shortening and frying medium. It is pure and healthful. It contains not an ounce of hog-fat.

Cottolene is today in use by thousands of housewives who would no more think of going back to lard than they would of reverting to tallow dips for lighting their homes.

Cottolene is one of the products which pure food advocates always endorse.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Every business firm was represented by some character and the novel way in which the ads. were prepared was catchy and pleasing. Some very handsome costumes were shown, and the affair was one of the greatest successes ever given in Gainesville.

Both floors of the building were filled with spectators and the continuous applause showed that it met with hearty approval.

THE MEETING OF EDUCATORS.

A great meeting of prominent educators convened in Atlanta on Wednesday, the meeting being termed as a "Conference for Education in the South." Fifteen men compose the "General Education Board" and this board is the heart of the movement, as it holds the key to the purse strings.

Bishop Warren A. Candler in a series of articles, has attacked the "General Education Board" and "The Southern Education Board" and the scheme which they are promoting. In discussing the attitude of Bishop Candler and the probable effect of the movement, The Savannah News of Wednesday said:

"Bishop Candler is against the scheme because he doesn't believe that fifteen men ought to be entrusted with the power to dominate education in this country, and also because he believes that the ultimate result will be the destruction of independence in educational matters.

"It may be argued, and probably will be, that because, under the scheme, no money goes to denominational colleges, Bishop Candler has no further interest in it and no sympathy with it, since his whole aim is to build up the colleges of the denomination to which he belongs. But that sort of an answer isn't a satisfactory one to the arguments he advances against it.

"There is no doubt of course that the colleges and schools which accept money from the 'General Education Board' feel under obligations to it and will not adopt a policy or pursue a course calculated to invite its disapprobation. To that extent therefore the beneficiaries are not free to do as they think best. Whatever they propose they will always have in mind their obligations to this 'General Education Board' and the additional benefits they hope to get from it.

"We have no doubt that it is the purpose of the fifteen men who control the great sum of money which Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Carnegie and others have contributed to the cause of education intend to use the money so as to achieve the very best result from an educational standpoint, but, in the first place, it is difficult for them to get in complete touch with the educational needs of each section, and, in the second place, while the fifteen men who now control the $50,000,000 or $60,000,000 fund may have no other motive than the advancement of the cause of education, the fifteen who will control the fund a quarter or half a century hence, when it has grown to $100,000,000 or $500,000,000 or $1,000,000,000, may undertake, for reasons that are not now apparent, to shape the character of the education of the whole people.

"And they may be in a position to do it. The money can be given so as to build up certain colleges and universities and to weaken others. The weak ones will gradually die out, leaving the strong ones to thrive on the money contributed from the vast fund of which the Rockefeller and Carnegie millions are the nucleus. The rich colleges will be able to draw the teachers who have won fame and the students will follow the teachers.

"Of course we don't intimate that there is a purpose to dominate the education of the country. We have no reason to question the sincerity of those behind this vast educational scheme, but it will be admitted that although now in the hands of men altogether sincere in promoting education alone, it might, in the course of time, with its great resources, be used to direct the thought of the people in matters which vitally concern the nation's welfare.

"It is safe to say that the scheme was inaugurated for the purpose of enabling Mr. Rockefeller and others to dispose of their wealth so that it would bring the best results to the people, but there is no assurance that that will continue to be the purpose. Doesn't Bishop Candler's article present a question worthy of the attention of present conference of educators in Atlanta?"

THANKS!

The Gainesville Sun's Sunday edition boasted an illuminated cover and a wealth of special Easter features. Editor McCreary ought to be proud of the way "the boys" are running things while he is at Tallahassee.—Tampa Tribune.

The Gainesville Sun and The Ocala Evening Star both appeared in Easter dress, last week. The Star on Saturday and The Sun on Sunday. Each is twelve pages, with an illuminated cover of enameled paper. Their Easter toggery is very becoming.—Times-Union.

The Gainesville Sun celebrated Easter by coming out in three sections. The cover section was a blaze of glory in blue with a combination of Angel, butterfly and modern Easter hatted, long kid gloved, striped parasoled girl in a field of daisies and a Brer Rabbit with a chip basket full of Easter eggs. A very fine conception.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

Frank Clark's frank speech in the House seems not to have struck a popular chord in Florida, but it is perhaps not best to criticize it with the unpolished knock that some of the boys are doing. This is no time to kindle a fire under the national political kettle, which can't be forced to a boil for three years.—Tampa Times.

Laying aside the question of the propriety of the remarks upon which he has been criticised, Congressman Clark is to be commended for boldly standing up for what he deemed for the best interests of his constituents. The tariff bill has proved a joker all around, and has caused dissensions in the ranks of both political parties that will require years to amend.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF FLORIDA

Tampa's phosphate shipments for March showed an increase of 25 per cent over the same month of the preceding year.

The Great Council of Florida Red Men held at Miami was a great success. The next general meeting goes to Palatka next year.

West Palm Beach is shipping a carload of tomatoes a day. The price all round will average $2 a crate. An acre yields from 450 to 500 crates.

Jacksonville lost the National Cannery's Association Convention because of insufficient hotel room. Yet Jacksonville has been building hotels for several years.

The Black Hand has claimed its third victim for the year in Tampa in the death of G. Figaretta, a wholesale grocer and member of the City Council of West Tampa.

The business men of Miami are thinking of establishing a crate factory. They calculate that if a saving of a very small amount is made on each crate that the shippers of that section will be much better off and that a factory can be made profitable.

E. H. Harriman's private yacht Sultana, with a number of his personal friends on board, touched at Tampa the first of the week. Mr. Harriman was not in the party, and nothing could be gained of Harriman's plans by talking to the men composing the pleasure seekers. They said that Mr. Harriman had told them nothing of his intentions concerning the Seaboard.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Gainesville People Know How to Save It.

Many Gainesville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Gainesville citizen's recommendation:

Mrs. E. H. Walters, 108 N. Oak avenue, Gainesville, Fla., says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time and I could find nothing that would relieve me. I suffered greatly from headaches and was often so dizzy that I could not stand. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box and began their use. They acted quickly and it was not long before I received relief. I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

ROBERSON OF SUWANNEE DESIRES TO HEAR DR. SLEDD

peal to the House to reconsider its action. He did not believe the Legislature was the proper place to air the differences between the Board of Control of State educational institutions, and that surely the resolution was meant for no other purpose. He did not favor anything that tended to retard progress along educational lines.

Mr. MacWilliams coincided. He too, offered an appeal to the House to reconsider its action on the matter. The resolution finally went over under the rules for further consideration.

A resolution extending an invitation to Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president of Stetson University, to address the House was offered by Mr. Alexander of Volusia, and unanimously adopted.

Concurrent Resolutions.

Concurrent Resolution No. 1, by Mr. Miller of Lake—Providing for the appointment of a committee of five, three from the House and two from the Senate, to investigate the work of reclaiming the Everglades and the canal work on the East Coast, was adopted.

I. I. Board Investigation.

Mr. Carter of Alachua, as chairman, reported the investigation of the committee by the Legislature of 1907, to examine the affairs of the Internal Improvement Board from its inception in 1855 to the present day. The report is quite voluminous and Mr. Carter moved that a consideration of the report be made a special order of business for 11 a. m. Tuesday. On account of the statement that certain members would not be present during the session of courts at home, Mr. Alexander then moved to amend his first motion, making a consideration of the report a special order for 11 a. m. Friday, April 23. Carried.

Resolution being next in order, the following was read:

Communication from Governor recommending that State treasurer be made a member of the pardon board instead of attorney-general, who shall act as counsel in the interest of the State whenever a petition for pardon is filed, was read. Referred to Constitutional Amendment Committee.

New Bills.

House Bill No. 154, by Duke of Alachua—Relating to amending statutes regarding fresh water fish.

Among the bills on second reading, were the following:

Bill No. 4, by Carter of Alachua—Prescribing time for holding terms of court in Eighth judicial circuit was next read. Went to Committee on Engrossed Bills.

Bill No. 5, by Carter of Alachua—Fixing penalty for larceny of hogs. Mr. Carter stated there was no provision of law for person stealing more than twenty hogs. Bill to take natural course.

Bill No. 7, by Carter of Alachua—Regulating sale of liquor in counties voting against sale of liquor. Mr. Carter said that present law only makes it a misdemeanor and that his

BOUNDARY STREET IS NOW ABOUT COMPLETE

COMMISSIONER DELL HAS BEEN DELAYED BY BAD WEATHER.

Other Immediate Repairs Required His Attention and Work Took Longer Than Expected.

The rock road leading from the city proper to North Gainesville is now about completed and parties traveling will no longer be compelled to go via Pleasant street, as they have in the past.

Street Commissioner Dell has about completed his work on Boundary street, the connecting line between East Main street and the North Gainesville rock road.

The building of this thoroughfare will prove a great convenience for many people in that section, as it will afford them a better way of travel to and from the city, and will also prove quite a convenience to the large number of people from the city who visit this popular suburb.

The road has been built of clay and sand, and with good drainage it is thought that it will prove sufficient for some time.

bill provides that second offense makes it a felony. Bill was reported favorably by Judiciary Committee. Bill to take natural course.

Control is entirely subordinate to the State Board of Education, so that, while you may (and do) desire to retain my services for the State, you are not free to follow your own judgment in the matter. I understand, also, that a majority of the State Board of Education, under the influence of State Superintendent Holloway (whose hostility to me, and the causes for it, and manifestations of it, are well known to your board), is unwilling to ratify my election by you. The consequences of your unqualified support of my election under the circumstances, it is not proper for me to assume. I must, therefore, tender my resignation, in order that you may have entire liberty of action in the premises, and be freed from any possible embarrassment on my account.

"2. As I understand the present situation, it has a sinister political history and significance, with the details of which your board is more or less familiar. If my position is to be regarded and dealt with as a political office, if my tenure of office is to be dependent upon my acquiescence in the application of political methods to the administration of an educational enterprise, my past record and present attitude necessitate my resignation.

"3. So far as I am aware, the only criticism made against me is that the institution does not have as many students as the critics think it ought to have. I must absolutely repudiate the number standard as the proper test of the efficiency and success of an institution of learning. This institution was established to provide a reasonably high collegiate education for the young men of the State. I think I may venture to say, with proper modesty, that it is accomplishing this result. I may add, also, that it has more college students than any other institution in the State. If it is demanded that number must be secured without reference to their fitness for the work, or to the methods adopted for securing them, I am certainly not the man for the place; and am unwilling to hold the position I now hold under any such conditions. "I am only a school man. I must conduct an educational enterprise along lines of sound educational policy as I understand it. I cannot do more; I will not do less. "Finally in presenting this resignation, I desire to express to the Board of Control my sincere appreciation of your kindness and courtesy toward me, and of your cordial support in the midst of many and unusual difficulties. I desire, also, to make one final request; namely, that you give to the public the full details of this whole transaction. You gentlemen have known me and my work intimately for four years. You know the whole course of my administration, and the whole series of events culminating in the present situation. In simple justice to myself and my record, as well as in the larger interests of the State of which we are the common servants, I urge you to give all the facts to the public, which is entitled to know exactly how we have administered our public trusts. Such action on your part would be a crowning service to the cause of political decency and sound educational policy in the State; and I urge upon you, as my final recommendation, that you make all the facts known to all the people. Respectfully,

"ANDREW SLEDD,
"President."

A Narrow Escape.

When Mr. Hartman returned an hour later than usual, Mrs. Hartman asked him the reason, and his good natured face was solemned as he answered her. "I had had one narrow escape from drowning, Katchen," he said. "How was that, happen?" asked his wife as she helped him unwind the knitted scarf from his neck. "Tell me it at once, Hans." "It was at the ferry that I came late," said Mr. Hartman, "from the blocked cars, and the boat she was just starting. A man he called me out, 'Joomp, joomp' and for one moment I thought to make as he said. But I reminded myself to be cautious and wait, and in one minute more, Katchen, came a great patch of water showing! Cracked Furniture.

Ugly marks caused by splits or cracked places in furniture are easily filled in with beeswax, and the mark is never detected. In fact, this is how furniture dealers cover such blemishes. First slightly soften the beeswax until it is like putty, then press firmly into the cracks and smooth evenly with a thin knife. Sandpaper over the surrounding wood and work the dust into the beeswax. This gives a wood finish or color, and when the furniture is varnished you will look in vain for the blemishes. It is better than putty since putty soon dries, crumbles and falls out, while beeswax will remain forever just where it is placed.

tion, I desire to express to the Board of Control my sincere appreciation of your kindness and courtesy toward me, and of your cordial support in the midst of many and unusual difficulties. I desire, also, to make one final request; namely, that you give to the public the full details of this whole transaction. You gentlemen have known me and my work intimately for four years. You know the whole course of my administration, and the whole series of events culminating in the present situation. GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newman, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat 'live at home and board at the same place.' The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

Gainesville Has:

One artist.
No saloons.
One garage.
Four hotels.
Four banks.
Four dairies.
One foundry.
Water works.
Ten churches.
One gas plant.
Two tin shops.
Three bakeries.
Ten physicians.
Six fruit stores.
Two gunsmiths.
Six restaurants.
One seed store.

CLEANLINESS IN THE DAIRY

By JOHN M. SCOTT

Florida Agricultural Experiment Station

To be able to supply good clean dairy products the following conditions are essential: Healthy cows, wholesome feed and pure water, clean barns, clean barnyards, clean cows, clean milkers, and clean milk utensils. The period when the utmost care is necessary to enable the dairyman to produce good-flavored and wholesome milk is at the time of milking and the first hour after. If at this time a few essentials should be neglected, any after treatment will make little difference; for milk once contaminated can only be made wholesome by boiling, and this is objectionable to many, as it destroys the pleasant taste.

Water and Food.

The herd should always have access to cool pure water. If the herd while in pasture should be compelled to drink water from dirty stagnant ponds or lakes, it ought not to be expected that cows under such conditions could produce wholesome milk. The feed, as well as the water, has a controlling influence on the quality of the milk produced. That is, if the feeds are sour or old, with a musty odor or taste, they will impart the same flavor to the milk. This is not the only bad effect that may result from using feeds of poor quality, as they will also have a bad influence on the health of the animals.

The Cow-shed, Stable, or Barn.

The stable or shed in which the dairy herd is kept is of great importance. For a dirty untidy barn, it is impossible to obtain clean wholesome milk. The barn should be kept clean at all times. If the cows are kept in the barn the greater part of the day, the droppings should be removed at frequent and regular intervals. If the cows are only in the barn while being milked, the stalls should be thoroughly cleaned as soon as the cows are turned out. Dry or dusty feed should not be given just before milking. In fact a number of our best dairymen do not feed until after milking. In hot dry weather the floors should be sprinkled just before milking, to settle the dust.

Milking.

When the cows are milked in the open lot, the chances of the milk becoming contaminated are greater during most of the year. The wind carries all kinds of germs with the dust, and in this way the milk is soon alive with all sorts of organisms.

The manure should not be allowed to accumulate near the dairy barn, as it is a breeder of flies, gnats, and bacteria. Fresh warm milk very quickly takes the odor from the manure pile; or if there should be a hog wallow near by, the milk while being drawn from the udder will absorb the odor.

The vessels in which the milk is drawn must be kept clean and sweet. Those that are rough and rusty should be discarded, as it is impossible to cleanse them properly.

The Milker.

All of these necessary precautions may have been taken and yet a very impure milk may be obtained. This is due to carelessness on the part of the milker. Just before milking, the udder and teats of each cow should be washed or wiped with a damp cloth or sponge, so as to remove dust and loose hairs which would otherwise fall into the pail while milking. The milker himself must be neat and clean. His hands should be clean and he should wear a clean suit and cap; or if not a suit, at least a milking apron. One should never milk with wet hands. All milk that is in any way questionable should be discarded. The milker himself should be free from any disease. No one should be allowed to do the milking who has been taking care of the sick, or who has in any other way been exposed to a contagious disease. There is no other food product in which disease germs will live and multiply so readily as milk.

Dirty Milk.

There is nothing that detracts from the value of dairy products so much as dirt. Even if the milk sold is itself scrupulously clean, yet if delivered in bottles or cans that are besmeared with dirt on the outside, the milk is naturally condemned on sight. Or if butter is sent to market in untidy and dirty-looking packages the value of the product is of course greatly reduced. Those who buy milk are as much entitled to receive wholesome milk, free from all injurious germs and organisms, as if they were buying any other food product.

PLUCK OF A MAGICIAN

Houdin's Experience Among the Marabouts of Algeria.

AN ARAB TRAP THAT FAILED.

The Great French Conjuror Stood the Test and Then by Another Trick Cowed His Infuriated Antagonists. The Story of Palmer's Curse.

There are some points of resemblance between the story of the great French conjuror, Robert Houdin, and the marabouts and the story of Palmer's curse. The first named tale is, strictly speaking, incredible only when regarded from the oriental point of view.

In the fifties the administrators of the French African empire were seriously hampered by the fanatical marabouts, who by their tricks of juggling persuaded their followers of their own supernatural powers and used this belief to fan the spirit of insurrection. Houdin was sent officially on a French warship to Algeria to confound them. While his task proved easy, the trip was not without its dangers.

In Algiers he had allowed himself to be shot at with pistols loaded by the marabouts. But once in the interior, when he was absolutely without the tools of his profession, he was forced to repeat the experiment. He was frightened, but he did not allow his fears to be perceived. He persuaded his audience to postpone the test until next morning in order that he might pass the night in prayer, as he was without the talisman that he needed if the feat was to be performed immediately.

The night he devoted not to prayer, but to insuring his invulnerability, and the next day before a great horde of Arabs he submitted to the test. The French conjuror insisted that in the sight of every one the pistols should be loaded by his enemies themselves. Then he calmly took his place and gave the signal. The sound of the pistol had not died away when Houdin opened his lips, showing the bullet held firmly between his teeth.

His infuriated adversary reached for the other pistol, but the conjuror was too quick. "You could not harm me," he said, "but now see how much greater my powers are than yours. Behold the wall." He fired, and out on the whitewash at the exact spot of his aim there crept slowly a great splotch of blood. The marabouts, in terror, covered before the prowess of the European magician.

Less fortunate in his fate than Houdin was the English orientalist E. H. Palmer. He fell a victim to fanaticism, but the story of his terrible curse will long be repeated and cause shudders to run round Bedouin campfires. Only upon the theory of metempsychosis can be explained his extraordinary powers of assimilating the customs and ideas of the east.

He was brought up in a traditional atmosphere of England when he turned his attention to oriental subjects he did not merely absorb, he simply absorbed. Not only Persian, Hindoostanee and Arabic, perfectly familiar to him, but he knew every obscurity of the slang of the camel drivers, and during his long voyages in the east his European origin was never suspected. Just as Houdin had been officially employed by the French government, so Palmer was by the English, but in a more intimate capacity.

Before the exploit that proved fatal he had many dangerous adventures. Once he was led away by a treacherous guide and betrayed to an Arab gang who meant to rob and kill him. He guessed their intentions, and when they began to inflict upon him petty annoyances he pretended not to notice them. Finally, however, the abuse became too obvious to be longer ignored. He sprang to his feet and drew out a letter that he had received from an English lady. "This to me! Down on your knees, you dogs, and kiss the handwriting of the sultan!" Down on their knees, cowed and groveling, fell his 300 captors.

In 1882 Palmer was sent on a secret service mission among the Bedouin tribes to persuade them against joining the rebellion of Arabi Pasha. He was betrayed and shot. But just before his death he laid upon his assassins the weight of his terrible curse. Now, in the east a curse is something not to be regarded lightly, and Palmer's was one of particular awfulness.

It was his last means of defense, and, while it did not save him, it blasted the hearing and destroyed the lives of those upon whom it fell. They shrank away from one another in horror. Some of them confessed their crime and were executed; all of them within a few months came to violent deaths. Palmer's curse is still remembered with terror in the east.—Bookman Evils that are passed should not be mourned.—Italian Proverb.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.
